INTRODUCTION

Six years ago, the Wyoming Department of Transportation (WYDOT) began a formal process to develop an overall strategic plan and cascade that process down throughout the agency. This effort resulted in every Program having a strategic plan, also named a Balanced Scorecard (BSC).

The following is WYDOT's Strategic Plan for 2012-2015 (Strategic Plan or Plan) that provides a guide for describing and accomplishing Department priorities over the next 3 years. The vision, mission, and values developed six years ago remain the same; however, the overall goals for WYDOT were recently updated to reflect areas of emphasis of the new Executive Staff leadership team.

In this plan you will find an overview and functions of the Department and the most recent organizational chart. The Department's shared vision, mission, and values follow. The six goals are listed, including overall strategies, which describe how the Department will accomplish the goals. There is also a short explanation of the BSC methodology.

In the next three years, all WYDOT Programs will go through the second iteration of strategic planning and updating their existing BSCs. In addition, the State of Wyoming has implemented a new appraisal system named the Performance Management Initiative (PMI). The PMI takes the goals that WYDOT Programs have established and aligns them with the goals their employees need to fulfill. This new process completes the strategic planning cycle of setting an overall strategic plan, having Programs set goals that are aligned with the overall plan, and finally having Programs align their employee individual goals to the Program goals.

OVERVIEW OF THE AGENCY

The Wyoming Department of Transportation is the largest state agency, with more than 2,000 employees dispersed throughout the state. Employees are responsible for overseeing 6,800 miles of highways, of which more than 900 miles are interstate. Job functions vary from construction, maintenance, law enforcement, regulatory and air service. For more details, see FUNCTIONS below. The transportation system serves all the citizens of Wyoming in addition to facilitating interstate commerce and travel.

- Improving processes
- Employee learning and growth and
- Using Department resources responsibly

SUMMARY

One of the most important parts to any strategic plan is the discussion and planning process that goes into developing the plan. The next important component of the plan is putting the strategies into action. Without this vital step the plan is just a document.

WYDOT is serious about improving as an agency and being accountable for resources entrusted to its care. This strategic plan helps us do that by guiding actions and communicating the results.
